Common/Preferred & Fixed Income	78%/22%

(1) Based on closing prices.

(2) Distribution rate is based on the current annualized distribution rate divided by the market price on the last business day of the quarter.

(3) The SEC yield is calculated by dividing annualized net investment income per share during a 30-day period by the maximum offering price per share as of the close of that period. SEC yield reflects the rate at which the fund is earning income on its current portfolio of securities. Since certain distributions received by the funds from real estate investment trusts (REITs) may consist of dividend income, return of capital and capital gains, and the character of these distributions cannot be determined until after the end of the year, the SEC yield has been adjusted for the funds that invest significantly in REITs based on estimates of return of capital and capital gains.

(4) Most recently declared monthly distribution. As portfolio and market conditions change, future distributions may also change. Distributions are subject to recharacterization for tax purposes after the end of the fiscal year. The Fund is currently paying distributions in excess of its net investment income, which may result in a return of capital. Absent this, the yield would have been lower. See reverse side for additional information.

Cohen & Steers Total Return Realty Fund

Cohen & Steers is a leading global investment manager specializing in real assets and alternative income, including real estate, preferred securities, infrastructure, resource equities, commodities, as well as multi-strategy solutions. Founded in 1986, the firm is headquartered in New York City, with offices in London, Dublin, Hong Kong and Tokyo.

Risks. Shares of many closed-end funds frequently trade at a discount from their net asset value. The funds are subject to stock market risk, which is the risk that stock prices overall will decline over short or long periods, adversely affecting the value of an investment in a fund.

The Fund is subject to special risk considerations similar to those associated with the direct ownership of real estate due to its policy of concentration in the securities of real estate companies. Real estate valuations may be subject to factors such as changing general and local economic, financial, competitive and environmental conditions.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION: The Fund may pay distributions in excess of its net investment company taxable income, and this excess would be a return of capital distributed from the Fund's assets. The estimated composition of each distribution, including any return of capital, will be provided to shareholders of record and is also available at cohenandsteers.com. Please note that these estimates may change substantially by year-end due to portfolio activity and tax recharacterizations, and shareholders will be notified following year-end regarding the final composition of all distributions via Form 1099-DIV.

The FTSE Nareit Equity REITs Index contains all tax-qualified REITs except timber and infrastructure REITs with more than 50% of total assets in qualifying real estate assets other than mortgages secured by real property that also meet minimum size and liquidity criteria.

The MSCI REIT Preferred Index (formerly known as the Morgan Stanley REIT Preferred Index or MSRP), is a preferred stock market capitalization-weighted total return index of certain exchange-traded perpetual preferred securities with fixed dividends or indexed yields that are issued by US Equity REITs.

The ICE BofA REIT Preferred Securities Index tracks the performance of fixed-rate US dollar-denominated preferred securities issued in the US domestic market including all real estate investment trusts.

The FTSE Nareit All Equity REITs Index contains all tax-qualified REITs with more than 50% of total assets in qualifying real estate assets other than mortgages secured by real property that also meet minimum size and liquidity criteria.

The S&P 500 Index is an unmanaged index of 500 large-capitalization stocks that is frequently used as a general measure of U.S. stock market performance.

An investor cannot invest directly in an index, and index performance does not reflect the deduction of fees, expenses or taxes.

Percentages may differ from data in the Fund's financial statements due to the effect of fair value pricing of foreign securities. The fund implements fair value pricing when the daily change in a specific U.S. market index exceeds a predetermined percentage. In the event fair value pricing is implemented on the first day of the period, the fund's return may diverge from the performance of its benchmark, which is not fair valued. This divergence is usually reduced on the day following the implementation of fair value pricing by the fund, as the value of the securities in the index that are held by the fund typically move closer to the fund's fair valued price when the market reopens.
